

Hanson Hills Proposal on Ballot

The Crawford County Board of Commissioners voted 5-1 Thursday to place a one-quarter mill proposal for Hanson Hills on the November general election ballot. The proposal asks voters county-wide to approve a quarter mill to help fund Hanson Hills for two years. The millage would raise about $48,500 a year starting on the 1985 taxes, if approved. The millage would fund about half of the park's operation with ski and rental fees and other fundraisers raising another $50,000 a year to meet the $100,000 a year budget.

Aging Commission Proposal On Ballot

The Crawford County Board of Commissioners also approved by a 5-1 vote placing a one-quarter mill proposal for the county Commission on Aging on the November general election ballot. The proposal asks voters county-wide to approve a quarter mill to help fund the Commission on Aging for two years. The millage would raise about $48,500 a year beginning with 1985 taxes, if approved. The proposal is a decrease from the half-mill request approved by voters three years ago.

Safety Rules Pertain To Bicycles as Well as Automobile Drivers

To reduce Michigan pedestrian and bicycle fatalities — a major cause of death among school-aged youngsters — the Automobile Club of Michigan is holding a series of statewide workshops as part of its "School's Open — Drive Carefully" campaign. Thirty-three youngsters aged 5-14 were killed in pedestrian traffic accidents last year in Michigan, compared to 29 deaths in 1982. While bicycle fatalities dropped from 28 in 1982 to 20 last year, the 5-14 age group still represents 45 percent of all the bicycle fatalities in Michigan.

"During the 1984-85 school year, we will hold approximately 2,100 school safety programs statewide for some 200,000 students," stated Robert Cullen, the Auto Club's Safety and Traffic Engineering manager. "The purpose of the workshops is to instruct students from pre-school through junior high school on pedestrian and bicycle safety practices." When Michigan schools begin opening in late August, Cullen cautioned that area motorists should be alert to the increased pedestrian traffic near and around school zones, especially during the early morning and mid-afternoon hours. Parents also can help ensure their children's safety by teaching them the proper procedures for crossing streets. "Special attention should be given to the 142,733 students statewide who will be attending elementary school for the first time," Cullen said.

"Dart-outs and mid-block crossings are the major causes for most school-related traffic accidents," he pointed out.

In addition to the workshops, safety belts, badges and training booklets will be distributed by the Auto Club to 1,800 Michigan schools. Parents may pick up free "School's Open — Drive Carefully" bumper stickers and placemats from the Auto Club's 54 full-service offices statewide.

Cullen pointed out that Michigan law requires motorists to stop at least 10 feet behind school buses with flashers on as they load or unload. Motorists should not proceed until those lights stop flashing.

Safety rules which parents should review with school-aged children include:

- * Cross only at intersections.
- * Look in all directions before crossing streets and watch for cars turning on green lights or making legal turns on red lights.
- * Obey safety patrol officers and crossing guards.
- * Walk on the sidewalk. If there isn't one, walk facing traffic.

Camp Grayling Not Considered Infantry Site

By Jon Thompson

Camp Grayling won't be included on a list of possible sites for a new light infantry division, according to U.S. Senator Carl Levin.

"The Army has reiterated its policy that it will not consider state-owned sites for the new planned light infantry division. The result is Camp Grayling won't be considered," Levin said in a statement sent to the Crawford County Avalanche.

ford County Avalanche.

"While it was a long-shot effort to get the Army to consider state-owned sites, the effort was worth it because I want the Department of Defense to think of Michigan when it does its planning and spending," Levin said.

The light infantry division will include 10,000 military personnel and add 2,000 civilian jobs to the base where it is located. The Army estimates the light infantry would mean an increase of about 30,000 people to the area where the base is located.

Levin visited Grayling July 12 for a public forum and encountered opposition to the light infantry division being based in Grayling. Levin said the residents of Grayling and Crawford County would have the final say in the issue but urged the community to wait before going through the agonizing decision of deciding if the area wanted the base.

He said the odds were against Camp Grayling even being considered and promised to notify residents as soon as he found out if Grayling would be included on the list of possible sites. Pat Hillier, Acting Assistant Secretary of the Army, confirmed Camp Grayling was not going to be considered as a possible site in a letter to Levin.

"...As I explained at our meeting, state-owned properties were not considered in the development of stationing alternatives because highly suitable federally owned properties are available. I have confirmed with the Secretary of the Army that this policy is unchanged. Consequently, we will not consider as a stationing alternative Camp Grayling or any other state owned properties..."

Camp Grayling now encompasses about 164,000 acres including land owned by the state military board and land leased from the DNR.

Vikes Return Solid Team

By Jon Thompson

It will be tough to improve on the 7-2 record Grayling earned last year, but the 1984 version of the "Green Machine" may be able to do it.

The Vikings return 15 lettermen from last year's squad that recorded six shut-outs and earned the Michigan Huron Shores Conference Class C title. And their experience is at key positions. Their offensive backfield boasts three backs that earned all-league honors last year — Rodney Patterson, Barsie Cross, and Jon Nicholas.

"We're looking solid," said head coach Bill Klinger, who helped lead the team to one of their best seasons ever in the MSHC that featured an exciting homecoming win over St. Ignace (the only loss of the year suffered by state Class D champion St. Ignace).

Klinger said with the good backs and an experienced offensive line, Grayling will run more than they throw this year. They'll use the pass to mix up the defense and occasionally go long.

Although not one Viking weighs more than 200 pounds, Klinger said his defense has decent size and is solid.

"Our defensive front line averages about 175 pounds and our linebackers go about 180 pounds," he said. "It's an experienced defense. Our philosophy is to have a good defense that can control the ballgame and give our offense good field position."

The Vikings open the season Friday at Roscommon at 7 p.m.

Klinger said the goals of the team this year is to be the best they can, do things right, and gain respect. Winning and losing will take care of themselves if they accomplish their three goals, he said.

The offensive depth chart on the Vikings reads: Quarterback — Jeff Branch, Sr., George Duncan, Jr.

Wing Back — Rodney Patterson, Sr., Tom Miller, Jr., Scott Trudeau, Sr.

Split End — Gregg Burns, Sr., Brad Naghtin, Sr., Kevin McDonough, Sr.

Volume Purchasing Reduces Costs at Mercy Hospital

For the second time in six months, the evaluation of a high cost/high volume hospital product by Grayling Mercy Hospital's nursing department has resulted in a savings for the hospital. Ten thousand dollars is expected to be saved the first year.

The study, evaluating surgical lap sponges, was conducted by Mercy's operating staff nurses and coordinated by Nursing Supervisor Mary Allen, R.N.

Four separate product lines of lap sponges were considered, with each product line being studied and evaluated for one week.

The evaluation at Mercy is part of a program involving 10 other Sisters of Mercy Health Corporation (SMHC) hospitals in Michigan. All 11 hospitals involved in lap sponge evaluation selected the same product line which, because of the large volumes, could save the hospitals about $100,000 annually.

An earlier study of syringes and needles in March involving 80 of Mercy Hospital's nurses saved the SMHC an estimated $500,000. "It is really amazing how all the hospitals have chosen the same product lines after they finish their evaluations," said Mrs. Allen.

According to Mrs. Allen, the reason why the hospitals are so close when choosing a certain product line is because of a set of guidelines the nurses use when evaluating.

"The guidelines give the nurses a certain direction to follow when evaluating the product," she said. "This is more practical than having a nurse downgrade the product just because she didn't like the color."

By Jon Thompson

The GHS girls basketball team enjoyed their best season ever last year with a 15-5 record and they're aiming even higher this season.

With five returning front-line players led by two-time all-league center Kris Laudenslager, the girls Vikings have a good nucleus for a run at their goals of winning the league and winning a district title.

Returning seniors for Grayling are Laudenslager, Michelle Barber, Erin Jones, Heidi Derenzy, and Dawn Phelps. Laudenslager had a 12.1 scoring average last year — 9th in the league — and grabbed more than 200 rebounds to lead the team.

Senior Audra Small also is on this year's squad after not playing last year. She played junior varsity two years ago. Juniors Lori Pfaff and Kim Springer, both played on varsity during tournaments last year, and sophomores Shawn Denton and Michelle Moore, both junior varsity players last year, round out the 1984 squad.

Head coach Tom Mills said he has a good rebounding team and an aggressive defense this year. He said they'll try to run the ball quickly down the court early in the season because their big players all handle the ball well.

The Vikings open the season against Johannesburg Wednesday, Sept. 5, at 6:30 p.m. at the high school gym.

Mills said the opening game will be a good indication of his team's capabilities because Johannesburg is supposed to be a quality team this year.

Grayling tangles with Roscommon, Houghton Lake, and Oscoda before beginning league play Sept. 25 at Petoskey.

From Our Corner...

We're taking this week off and with the permission of Jim Fitzgerald columnist for the Detroit Free Press we reprint his column that appeared in the Sept. 1st issue of the Free Press...we felt it quite appropriate for this time of year...

Did we do everything?

Grieving driver doubts it

I've always wished that people — especially youngsters — riding bicycles along the edge of the road would go against auto traffic, instead of with it. Then I would know for sure that they saw me driving the big car that could easily flatten them.

A bicyclist just in front of my right fender, with his back to me, always makes me nervous. Does he know I'm there? Does he know that if he swerved just a little to the left, I might hit him? Should I honk, or would the noise startle him and cause him to swerve into danger?

Most traffic experts say I'm nuts: that it's safer for bicyclists and motorists to travel in the same direction, rather than meet eye-to-eye. I defer to their expertise, of course, but still...

Linda C. Richardson is a 31-year-old mother who lives in Clare, Mich. About three weeks ago, a bicycle swerved in front of her car. That night, she couldn't sleep, so she wrote this letter to Al Bransdorfer, publisher of The Clare Sentinel:

"Today, I did everything I could.

"Today, I hit an 11-year-old boy riding his bicycle. I don't know yet if I've killed him, paralyzed him, or just broke his body into slow-healing, painful pieces.

"Everybody says it wasn't my fault. Everybody says I did everything possible not to hit him. Everybody says I did all that could be done afterwards, waiting. Everybody says it was an accident. Everybody says I did everything I could.

"I was just in the wrong place at the wrong time.

"No, I'm not blaming him; he's just a kid on a bike.

"Just a kid on a bike, or a kid on foot. I've had them dart out in front of me before. Almost accidents, close calls, near misses, or just dangerous situations.

"I've slammed on the brakes, swerved, blown the horn, even yelled out the window. Whatever it took to avoid it.

"I've driven away, sweating, shaking a little, saying 'Thank you, God' and 'Crazy kids.' And always — relief. Maybe even a little proud I avoided hitting him. I did everything I could.

"No, not everything I could. What about the next time, or the time after, or 20 years from now...A close call does not change habits, attitudes, lifespans. It doesn't stop 'next times.'

"I haven't done anything — just avoided that one accident. I haven't stopped (hang the time), grabbed the kid — shot him, screamed at him, cried with him, hugged him, swatted him, loved, bullied, pleaded, threatened — whatever it took to make him know that dead is forever.

"I will now.

"Then, maybe I can say I did everything I could.

"So, if your child comes home shook up because a crazy woman was a little rough on him and embarrassed him in front of his friends, and maybe he even has a 'Watch It -- Dead Is Forever' or 'Watch it -- Somebody Loves You' button, forgive me for interfering.

"But be thankful your child could come home at all.

"And, I beg you, if you see either of my sons riding dangerously, do everything you can.

"And maybe then, we can all say 'I did everything I could.'"

The day after Linda Richardson wrote that letter, 11-year-old Travis Hackett of Clare died from injuries suffered when his bicycle swerved in front of her car.

This is the time of year when children are returning to school, on bicycle and on foot. Do everything you can.

With that we will bid T.J., Stefany and Amber goodnight...and to all of our readers drive carefully...and with Labor Day out of the way, Think Spring...we really don't need winter...

The Bible Speaks

From Calvary Baptist Church

A SIN NOT TO VOTE?

For many years Bible believing individuals seemed to avoid involvement in the political process. There was seemingly a common belief that all politicians were either crooks, or became crooks before leaving office. The religious liberals saw the political process as a means to implement their humanistic, social gospel. Many of them actually ran for office, and still do. As many people watched the moral and ethical values of our government being undermined, it began to dawn on some people, that the fault was not so much the liberal influence, as the lack of influence by Bible believing Christians.

Our Republic was built upon the principle of government of the people, by the people, and for the people. This democratic principle makes each of us the responsible government, and the elected officials our representatives. Since government is ordained of God, (Romans 13:1), and ministers of government are called ministers of God, (Romans 13:5), each of us as individual citizens has an ordained authority to minister God's natural and special revealed laws. This was the foundation of civil law in this country. God, therefore, holds each of us as individuals, responsible for our government.

The church has no authority or responsibility over the state. We believe in separation of church and state. However, the church does have a responsibility to proclaim God's revealed laws to every creature. It is then the individual citizen's obligation to see that God's morality remains at the foundation of good government.

It is often said, "My vote doesn't count." We should consider that one vote in the Michigan legislature continued taxpayer-funded abortion in 1984. When a person votes for a candidate who supports abortion, doesn't he become personally responsible for each human life lost as a result? Doesn't he pay the taxes which support the crime? When you vote in favor of a candidate who opposes voluntary Bible reading and prayer in schools, don't you vote to strengthen the evolutionary theories of humanism taught to most young people? When you vote for a candidate who supports "gay rights", aren't you voting to permit homosexuals to become school teachers and counselors who may promote that lifestyle among your children and grandchildren?

Can a Bible believing Christian fail to vote his moral convictions and not sin against his God, his country, his family and himself? "Therefore to him that knoweth to do good, and doeth it not, to him it is sin." James 4:17. We dare not blame evil in the world on wicked men, until we have done everything in our power to do right.

Everyone who needs a ride to school should learn all about the Suzuki Shuttle. It goes a long way on just a little gas, and with an automatic no-shift clutch it's a real gas to ride.
There's even solid state electronic ignition and self-lubricating self-adjusting chain drive that keeps upkeep down to a minimum.
So take the Suzuki Shuttle to class and show people what a real scholar you are.

The Sensation of Suzuki.

Much of Dallas is a blur

by Richard Millman

SO, IT'S BACK from Dallas and the Republican National Convention, and back into the more normal routine back home.

Much of convention week is a blur in the memory of this first-time delegate; so much happened in such a short time. But it was exciting and a memorable experience, although it was routine and near-boredom in some ways.

In no particular order of importance or chronology, then, herewith are some of my impressions and reactions.

THE DETROIT TIGER blue baseball hats worn by the Michigan delegates were a hit on the convention floor, and helped mold the Michigan contingent together. You get some sort of feeling of fellowship when you're all wearing the same silly hats.

Difficult as it may seem to Michiganders, some people don't know what the "D" on the hat stands for. Some thought it meant Dallas, others Delaware, and one even guessed it meant that the wearer was a delegate who didn't have to clear security each time he/she entered the convention.

Other states used symbols, too. Wisconsin wore big red wide-brimmed hats with a big white "W" on the front. Minnesota wore farmer straw hats. Arizona and Oklahoma wore vests. California sported sombreros and sashes, while Hawaii wore aloha shirts or dresses.

The Detroit baseball hats were a good idea. They were furnished the GOP by insurance mogul Dick Headlee, just as the brothers Levin — Sen. Carl and Rep. Sander — furnished them to Democrats in San Francisco.

SECURITY WAS TIGHT but not obnoxious. A six-foot chain link fence costing $75,000 set off the convention center, with only a few closely-guarded entries.

Buses brought the delegations from hotels to a holding area near the convention hall (the Michigan delegation was housed about 20 miles from the hall). From the holding area, other buses with armed Dallas police officers aboard ferried the delegation to the center. The procedure was reversed when each convention session ended.

On the first day our hotel bus was stopped five times for clearance in the parking lot near the convention hall.

Demonstrators were nowhere to be seen by the normal delegate in a normal approach to the hall. If you wanted to see demonstrations, you had to go out of your way to find them — or watch them on television. That was another part of the tight security.

It was so hot that most of the demonstrators packed up and went home after a couple of days; they had been provided tent and camp space by the city, but the sun and 100-plus heat were merciless.

OBVIOUSLY the Republican Party wanted to emphasize the importance of women, but the whole idea came close to overkill.

The convention heard from only three cabinet members — all women (Jeane Kirkpatrick, Elizabeth Dole, Margaret Heckler). It seemed as if for every male who appeared on the rostrum, a female was sure to follow. Almost half the delegate-alternate total was female, too.

Women are important to politics, and in the Republican Party. But it got a bit predictable, and even laughable at times, even to many women delegates.

Two campaign pins relating to gender stand out in my mind: "Even a woman can't save Mondale" and "Save the males."

The emphasis on humble beginnings also became a bit overpowering. Speaker after speaker talked of their forebears coming to the USA from a foreign country, and starting from nothing, and who would have thought that their grandson or daughter or nephew or whatever would some day wind up addressing this great convention?

Again, some reference would be acceptable, but speakers tended to outdo themselves in humbleness. After all, every one of us has roots in some other country somewhere. What's the big deal?

MANY DELEGATES and alternates acted as hometown reporters for news outlets back home. Several were calling home every day to fill in local radio and TV stations or newspapers on their impressions of what was going on.

In addition, media people swarmed all over delegates for interviews and impressions, and television cameras were relentless in panning over the audience as the convention wore on. You had to watch yourself or you might get pictured in an unflattering pose.

Those who received the most video attention, generally speaking, were (1) young and pretty women; (2) delegates in ridiculous hats or costumes; and (3) those who had a seat on the aisle.

I think all delegates were interviewed by someone. The Michigan champ could be Kevin Hammons from Detroit — a good-looking young black delegate, both articulate and willing — who claimed some 50-plus interviews.

As for me, I was interviewed only once. Patty Montemurri of the Detroit Free Press asked me how I liked Dallas, but she didn't get around to me until Wednesday and the convention ended Thursday. I almost set a record for non-interviews.

THE MOST MEMORABLE impression I will carry from the 1984 convention comes from the final night.

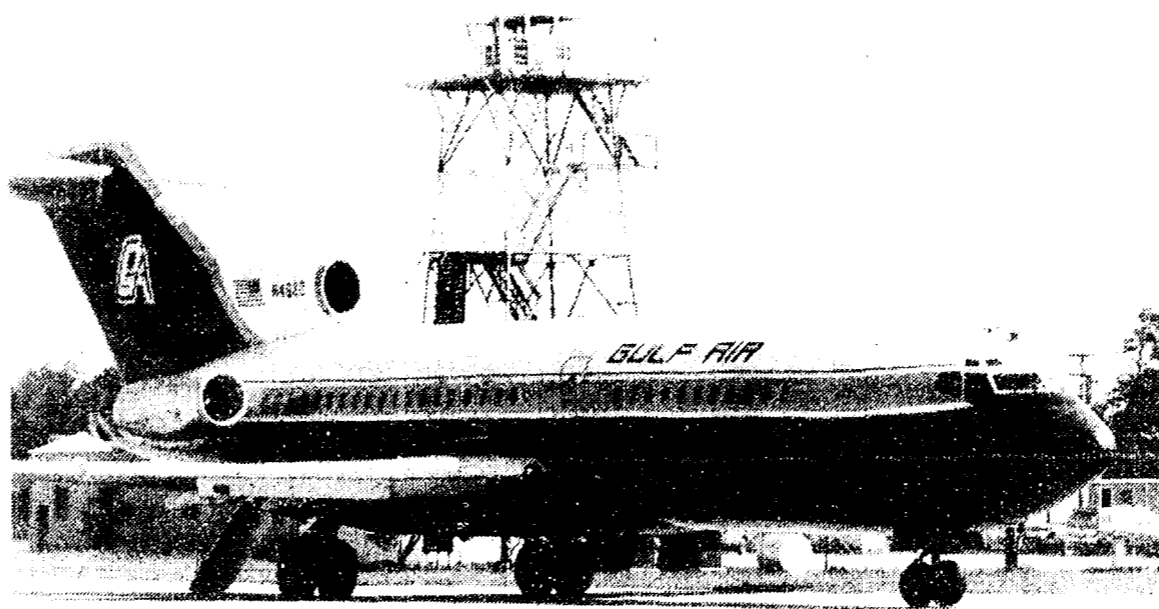

It was a foot-stomping, flag-waving, hoot-and-holler time as President Reagan gave his acceptance speech. The talk itself was not a memorable one; it will not go down in history, but Mr. Reagan touched all the right buttons, and he was interrupted by applause many times.

Shouts of "U-S-A" and "Four more years" and "We want Reagan" erupted time and again from the floor, and I was shouting and stomping with the best of them. You tend to get caught up in something like that.

After the speech came blind singer Ray Charles, who played and sang his individualized version of "America the Beautiful," which is beautiful in itself. On the third chorus, delegates joined in. We clasped hands, and sang, and swayed gently back and forth, in an expression of unity and friendship.

Then we all joined in singing "God Bless America." Singing and joining hands and swaying brought tears to some eyes and lumps to some throats.

It was the perfect way to end the convention. It was moving. It was beautiful. I'm glad I was part of it.

727 LANDS HERE — A Gulf Air Transport 727, the largest civilian aircraft ever to use Grayling McNamara Airport, landed here August 17. The 727 flew a charter flight from Grayling to Fort Hood, Texas, carrying 131 Army evaluators who had been temporarily assigned to Camp Grayling to observe national guard exercises. Crawford County Transportation Authority director Dave Frederick said the 727 landing dramatically demonstrated the potential of the existing runway system for growth.

Kirtland's Aviation Program Has Gained Importance

With today's critical shortage of aviation mechanics, programs such as Kirtland Community College's two year Aviation Maintenance Technology program have become more and more important. These programs train men and women to perform mechanical operations and repair on some of the world's largest and most well known airliners, as well as small, privately owned aircraft.

Kirtland's specialized program is FAA (Federal Aviation Agency) approved, and is designed to prepare students for FAA certification examinations in Airframe and/or Power Plant. The program is geared to train individuals for immediate employment upon graduation, and is transferrable to some four year institutions that have Baccalaureate degrees in aviation maintenance. Program of study includes work in jet and reciprocating engines; installation; exhaust, instrument, fuel, lubrication, electrical and ignition systems; aircraft finishes and drawing; structures; inspection; and many other courses. Intensive training and study are required to complete the 88 credit hour program in the two year period of time (four semesters).

Most of Kirtland's aviation graduates have little difficulty finding employment, and two of the program's graduates have found work as airport managers. Positions at both commercial and freight airlines, and airport facilities throughout Michigan and the United States offer employment with A/C engines, hydraulics, electrical, airframe, welding, propellers, or in airport management or fixed base operations. Wages can be expected to be between $5.00 and $11.00 per hour to start.

Once a strictly male dominated field, aviation maintenance is now becoming popular with women and women mechanics. Although only three women have been in Kirtland's program in recent months, counselors and faculty members at the college are not hesitant to suggest the program to female applicants. Often, there are special grants available to help these women through their "non-traditional" college programs.

Kirtland's 16,000 square foot Aviation Facility is located at the airport in Grayling, and offers students in the program the opportunity for hands-on experience with over 15 aircraft and engines. Beechcraft, Bell, Cessna, DeHavilland, Hughes, Lockheed, and Piper Aircraft are represented. The Kirtland Community College Aviation Facilities rank among the finest in the country, with training in both fixed wing aircraft and helicopters.

Work on T.U.

Projects Continue

The Chapter continues to be busy with several projects of benefit to our area. The second set of access steps have been completed in the Deward area on the Manistee River and eroding river banks have been closed near the steps with assistance from the Soil Conservation Service and the D.N.R.

Some fifty one sites have been identified and photographed on the Manistee River from Mancelona Road to M-72 where extensive erosion has occurred - priorities for stabilization efforts are being developed by the George W. Mason Chapter T.U., the Soil Conservation Service and the Resource Conservation and Development (RC&D) area.

Four erosion control and landing improvement projects are to be completed soon at road ends on the AuSable mainstream. Six other such enhancement projects are scheduled for next year. These projects are joint efforts of T.U., the AuSable Property Owners, the Crawford County Road Commission and the Soil Conservation District.

American Legion Auxiliary

by Laurie Jensen
 P.R. Director

For the past several weeks as many of you know, I have not written my usual weekly article for the Auxiliary but if you have been reading you will know that I have been writing for the Muscular Dystrophy Association. The Auxiliary was quite heavily involved with this years telethon. Many of us from the Auxiliary spent long hours working to get the telethon off the ground. We feel that our time was well spent on such a worthy cause. We were truly pleased to have been a part of this years telethon for Crawford County.

With our new year starting in the Auxiliary we seem to be back at the same old problem. No workers for the Bingo kitchen. Unfortunately there is only about 10 or 11 members that come regularly to the meetings out of 101. With that amount in attendance, I'm sure you can see why we are having problems. Some of us have steady jobs, some already work for the men during Bingo and the rest keep working the Bingo kitchen week after week and month after month. Ladies, now you can see our problem. Can you give a solution? The one that we are looking at is the possibility of closing the Bingo kitchen. Does that sound terrible? What would you do if you were in our shoes? Why don't you give our President Sharon Rubey a call at 348-7795 if you can help. Your help will be greatly appreciated.

Our next regular meeting is Wednesday, September 12 at 7:30 p.m. Let's get behind our new officers and show some support. Did you know that last month, unfortunately, we did not even have enough ladies present for quorum?? That was disappointing for our new officers. I hope that next month is better. See you there!

New Bond Issue To Provide $125 Million For Mortgage Loans

Warren M. Hoyt, Executive Dir., MPA

The Michigan State Housing Development Authority has sold its largest bond issue and will offer the full $125 million in home mortgage at the rate of 10.95 percent.

The low-cost mortgages will allow about 3,400 families to purchase homes and will lead to the creation of more than 1,500 jobs.

Applications for the 30-year, fixed-rate loans, targeted for low and moderate income homebuyers, are now being accepted at participating lending institutions.

The authority will take loan applications on a first-come, first-serve basis from the lenders and will set aside mortgage money for applicants who appear to meet the program guidelines and who have made a purchase offer on a specific property.

For persons who build or buy a new (not previously occupied) house, the income limit is $28,000 and the maximum purchase price of house and land is $70,000. The maximum mortgage from the authority is $60,000.

For the purchase of an existing home, the income limit is $23,000 and the maximum price is $36,000.

However, in 34 communities meeting certain statutory definitions of economic distress, the income limit for buyers of existing houses will be $25,000 and the maximum purchase price, $50,000.

The authority had exhausted available bonds for its home mortgage program in March.

The recent passage of legislation increasing the bonding limit and congressional approval of an extension of revenue bonds until December, 1987, cleared the way to proceed with the new bond sale.

The bonds, rated AAA by Standard and Poor's Corporation, had a true interest cost of 10.66 percent. The issue was marketed by an underwriting led by E.F. Hutton and Company.

ADC Recipients Told To Register For Job Training

More than one-third of the state's recipients of aid to families with dependent children (AFDC) have been ordered to register for employment and training programs under a new state law which requires parents with children older than six months to apply for the training, the Department of Social Services has reported.

The law took effect July 1 and notices informing recipients they had to apply for training programs were sent to approximately 87,000 AFDC clients.

The total is more than one-third of the total 238,000 families now receiving the grants and officials said most of the state's adults welfare recipients are now required to participate in the Michigan Opportunity and Skills Training (MOST) program to help them become more qualified for jobs.

Recipients who are not exempt from participating in the MOST program for other reasons, such as being older than 50 or younger than 16, handicapped, caring for a disabled person or a full-time student, face being cut off from benefits for three months if they do not comply with the registration requirements.

Federal welfare policies only require parents to participate in employment training programs if their children are older than six years, but the state was granted a waiver earlier this year permitting the requirements that parents with children at least six months old participate in training programs.

The legislation mandating the participation of those parents was angrily debated by lawmakers who argued it would force parents to give up taking care of their children.

Social Service officials said many of the affected clients already had registered for the MOST program, but did not provide figures on how many that totaled.

Crawford Co. Girl Scouts

The Crawford County Girl Scouts are a part of the Mitten Bay Girl Scout Council which services twenty-one counties in Northern Michigan area of 12,448 sq. miles. Our 120 girls are enrolled with 10,400 girls in the area. Our 27 adults work the 2,200 other adults to bring the program of Girl Scouting to all interested girls. They work in twelve troops of the 891 troops throughout the Council. The Mitten Bay Council full time executive staff is eighteen with part time staff in the field along with the volunteer service unit teams in all the areas.

Girl Scouts is the largest girl organization which is an ideal, philosophy and a way of life. What happens to a girl is inside values rooted around a people centered movement. The aim is better people not better knot tiers, firer builders and artists. Better people in our future society. Character building is a reason for being that is an ounce of prevention in the learning of skills. Activities encouraging friendship, teamwork and fostering global awareness and understanding link the girls across the street and across the ocean.

The Mitten Bay Council provides to the Crawford County Girl Scouts staff services at all times, a field director who works with the service unit team and the leaders in the delivery of the program to the girls. The leaders receive training and a journal containing the program. They are a center for supplies and resources that maybe needed by the leaders in their work with the girls. A newsletter about Girl Scouting in Mitten Bay is put out monthly. Summer camp program folders, religious services bulletins and inserts for Girl Scout Sunday in March, forms for all events in the troops and the running of camps in the summer.

Girl Scouting is a fun partnership between local girls and Volunteer adults opening new opportunities for both. It is a chance to grow as the two share knowledge, skills and experiences. It means making a contribution to the community like giving the Michigan Flag to the Grayling Elementary School, taking cans of pet foods out to the Animal Shelter and planting trees in the park. It is challenging, rewarding and lots of fun. It's also a solid investment in the future as the girls are Girl Scouts forever in their future lives.

Arts Council's Dance Program

The Crawford County Arts Council's Fall semester dance program began on Tuesday, September 4, with a wide range of classes in ballet, tap, and jazz aimed at pre-schoolers through senior citizens.

Coming to Grayling under the sponsorship of the Arts Council are two performances from Grand Rapids Midwest Lyceum: On Saturday, October 13, the Broadway Revue, "Four by Four and More," will be presented; and on Sunday, October 28, the Midwest Trio, a group of musicians from the Grand Rapids Symphony will perform. Both performances will be held in the Joseph Stripe Auditorium of Grayling High School.

Tickets for the series will go on sale at Flowers by Josie/Grey Goose Gifts in Sept. Price is $6.00 for both performances and $4 for one performance. The September meeting of the Arts Council will be held on the second Tuesday of the month, the 11th, at 7:30 p.m., in the Community Room of Northern National Bank. New members are invited to attend.

Flu Up-Date

The flu immunization season will soon be upon us, and several changes have occurred since the 83-84 season. The previous years recommendations for immunization for high risk individuals remains. Healthy senior citizens, while still encouraged to receive vaccine, are given a lower priority than last year.

There is also some encouragement for immunization of the general public, with emphasis on those who provide essential community services, (fire and police, health care personnel), based on the assumption that a vaccination program would minimize the disruption of essential activities in the event of a severe epidemic.

Gaylord Bank Changes Name

Gaylord State Bank announced that effective September 15, 1984 it will be changing its name to Old Kent Bank of Gaylord.

According to Charles L. Berlin, President of Gaylord State Bank, "The new name will identify us more closely with Old Kent Financial Corporation, the statewide banking organization with whom we became affiliated in 1981, and will allow us to more effectively communicate with our customers."

Berlin emphasized that there would be no changes in either operations or personnel as a result of the name change. He stated that "Customers will continue to conduct business as usual."

They will be served by the same people who have helped them over the years and will be able to use the same checks, deposit and withdrawal tickets, and loan payment coupons which they are currently using."

John C. Canepa, President of Old Kent Financial Corporation, commented, "This name change symbolizes the Old Kent philosophy of combining the advantages of membership in a strong statewide banking organization with those of local decision-making and responsiveness."

All Old Kent affiliates are local, individually chartered banks, with their own presidents and board of directors who make decisions right in town."

R & H Sports Take 2nd at State Finals

R & H Sports, of Grayling, came within one hit of winning the Class C state softball championship last weekend at Milan.

R & H Sports started the tournament blasting the ball just like at the district tournament where they averaged a home run about every eight at bats.

In the first game against Sheridan I.G.A., R & H Sports scored ten runs in the opening inning and never looked back. They won 21-7 with Barry Ewing, of Lewiston, hitting the first home run with Rich Alexander, of Grayling, pounding two home runs. Mark Gornick, of Grayling, also hit a home run, Jack Neuenfelt, of Lewiston, went 5 for 5, and Jim Tobin, of Grayling, went 4 for 5.

In the second game, R & H nipped Foster Oil, of Richmond, 7-6 in the last inning when Dale Papendick, of Grayling, tied the game with a home run and Ron Metzger, of Grayling, in a pinch-hitting role, drove in Bruce Burkett, of Grayling, for the winning run.

The third game was easier with Ewing hitting a home run and Tobin going 3 for 4 as R & H beat Burger King, of Jackson, 8-3.

In the fourth game, R & H came from behind to beat 7-Eleven, of Portland, by a 7-6 score. Papendick and Burkett walked to open the last inning and Dwight Walker, of Lewiston, and Ewing hit clutch RBI singles.

R & H met Portland 7-Eleven again in the finals and lost two close games 8-7 and 11-8. In the first game, a three-run last inning rally fell just short of the state title for R & H.

Tobin led the hitting for R & H at a .667 pace while scoring 12 runs and Ewing knocked in 14 RBIs. Also contributing to the team's run at the state title were Grayling players Bill Roach, who scored 7 runs, Mike Money, who scored a run, and Ted May, of Lewiston, who batted .524 for the tournament.

Doodles From The Tall Timber

Wendell L. Hoover
Park Interpreter

Many believe that the land of the Tall Timber will be empty of people now that Labor Day is past. This is simply not the case. We fully expect to be as busy on weekends through mid-October as we were during July. There will be a brief lull because of school starting, but it is soon over. The number of people camping will stay quite high, but the age of those staying with us will increase. This fact has been the norm for as long as I have been here.

With the arrival of Labor Day, the number of employees drops drastically and, as always, the manager is beset with the problem of a seven-day-a-week operation. The other day I took a look at the project list which has been getting longer all summer. There were numerous items crossed off, indicating completion, but there were many more that simply could not be done during the summer. On the other hand, they should, like the footings for the sawmill, be finished before the cold gets too intense. For at least one project, we are dependent on the contractor who will do some blacktopping in the campground and hopefully in the picnic area. All in all, it shapes up as a busy fall with the winter project list growing longer each day.

Serving on USS Kitty Hawk

Navy Airman John H. Howe, son of John H. and Nancy L. Howe of Route 2, Grayling, recently returned from a six and a half month deployment to the Western Pacific and Indian Oceans.

He is a crewmember aboard the aircraft carrier USS Kitty Hawk, homeported in San Diego.

During the first part of the deployment, the carrier and its embarked carrier air wing participated in various training exercises, including the ninth annual "Team Spirit" exercises in the Republic of Korea.

Following Team Spirit, the carrier made a visit to Subic Bay, Republic of the Philippines for scheduled upkeep before traveling to the Indian Ocean and the North Arabian Sea.

The Kitty Hawk spent more than two months on station in the North Arabian Sea near the Strait of Hormuz, as part of the U.S. Navy's Battle Group Bravo.

Port visits were made to Pearl Harbor, Hawaii; Pusan, Republic of Korea; and Perth, Australia.

The Kitty Hawk is 1,046 feet long, has a crew of 2,800, plus another 2,150 assigned to the embarked carrier air wing.

Keeping Healthy

Many Americans Unaware of Ways to Prevent Cancer

Controllable causes of cancer are related to smoking, dietary factors, environmental factors, alcohol abuse, and excessive exposure to sunlight, according to the Health and Human Services Secretary, Margaret M. Heckler.

Although these controllable causes are estimated to account for 73% of all cancers, after conducting a survey of 1,876 people, the National Cancer Institute concluded that many Americans are unaware of measures to prevent cancer and hold a variety of misconceptions about the disease. Almost half of the respondents agreed with the statement, "There is not much a person can do to prevent cancer."

Secretary Heckler suggests that by eliminating smoking and including more fiber and less fat in their diets, individuals can substantially reduce their risk of cancer. "Changes in people's lifestyle and behavior could save 95,000 lives per year by the year 2000," Secretary Heckler predicts.

Dear Citizens of Grayling; After 3 days of the fair, which I thought was very well organized, and with many enjoyable events I came away utterly amazed, I spent several hours with the Right to Life booth and spoke to many, many people, not all from this county, my amazement was how on earth 7 men could make a devastating decision about so many lives when at least 90% of the people who came by our booth were totally against abortion and want it stopped, 5% were not sure but would prefer it were stopped, the last 5% passed on by.

At one time sexual pleasure cost the price of a contraceptive, now it cost the life of a small human.

Dear Editor, After spending the summer in Grayling working for the National Guard I want to express my personal feelings to all the nice people I have met and talked with. From the coffee shoppe to the different churches, it was a rewarding summer with many experiences to long remember. Enjoyed your library and the thoughtful book sale that went on during Milltown Days.

Hartwick Pines brings back many memories and is a beautiful spot. Also I thank your paper the "Avalanche" for being a very informative small town paper. Many interesting stories and articles. The "Bible Speaks" is excellently done by a local minister. If God's willing I will be back again next year. God's love to all, Joseph M. Mossie Iron Mountain, Mi.

Subject: Recall of Kelley of the Public Service Commission.

For allowing rate increases against the consumer. Building trades are down and not able to build because of the economy.

The few people still working are being taxed to death because of the economy. The old and poor people are not able to pay their bills. The people on pensions are told they will not get an increase. Hold the line at the top, and everyone else will fall into line.

Recall Kelley and the Public Service Commission, they don't need increases, they need to clean house both in utilities and the government.

So let's get our end started, recall Kelley and the Public Service Commission.

A Bit of History

"Probably no greater compliment could be paid to the Grayling Mercy Hospital than the fact that this institution is filled to its capacity. While there is still available room in the wards, every private room is occupied. Patients are brought here from near and far, even one from Grand Rapids. Really, we don't know how the people of this part of Michigan ever got along without this wonderful institution. We have a just pride in our hospital, also great appreciation of the excellent work that is being done there."

The above bit was quoted from a news item in the Crawford County Avalanche 69 Years Ago on February 15, 1912.

We all know that the same wonderful work at Mercy Hospital has continued down through the years of its existence.

Thank you one and all. Elmer L. Fenton

REPORTS AND ANNOUNCEMENTS:
Commission On Aging: In addition to the four persons just appointed to the C.O.A. consideration is also being given to eventually replacing two of the present three county commissioners on the C.O.A. with citizens. One member of the C.O.A. will be seated on the Grayling Housing Advisory Board; and the lease with the Housing Commission will be finalized any day, with occupancy in the Housing Commission facility expected by the end of August. The job description and salary for a project manager for the C.O.A. has been determined; and an advertisement for the position has been approved. Work is presently being done on formulation of the millage renewal. There has been discussion as to whether the Greyhound bus should be kept or sold. The difficulty of finding licensed drivers, maintenance costs, high insurance rates, the bus's deteriorating condition and the limited use of the vehicle seem to outweigh the value of keeping it.

D.S.S. A complaint relative to available monies for conference attendance not being adequately advertised has been lodged with the MI County Social Services Association.

Roads & Bridges: Paving projects for Beaver Creek, paving costs and enforcement of speed and weight restrictions were briefly discussed.

Insurance: The Transportation Authority will be securing their own insurance, because their volume of claims has proven too costly for the County Self Insurance Program. Additional monies will be requested in the 1985 budget to provide a reserve in the insurance fund.

Miller reported on a meeting he attended which addressed landfill legislation. The clay capping at the Crawford/Otsego Landfill remains a critical priority. With contamination already present, the capping must be done even if the landfill is closed.

IN OTHER BUSINESS, THE BOARD:
— Discussed the need for securing property for a permanent fair grounds. The DNR will be contacted regarding the possibility of acquiring either one of two forty acre parcels presently owned by the State of Michigan.

— Decided, by consensus, to replace a part-time dispatcher who terminated; and grant a 30 day leave requested by a full-time dispatcher.

— Learned from the Sheriff that it has been necessary to refuse some ambulance transfer requests recently. The problem is a shortage of E.M.T.'s and the fact that hospital personnel are not being made available to accompany the ambulance.

— Decided, by consensus, that any agreement for extension of the work time for persons working under the Youth Employment and Training Program in county offices should be expected by the Dept. Heads involved, if they desire.

Meeting adjourned at 4:10 p.m.
Full text of officials minutes is available in the Office of the Crawford County Clerk.

Chamber Chatter

By Joyce Kolka

We often speak of Economic Development for our area. What does it Really mean? In our opinion, it means tourism, conventions, expansion of local industry, new retail and service businesses and the constant search for these enterprises to locate in our area.

Theoretically, the average business or industry has a life span of about 20 years. So you see we must be constantly on the alert for new or expanding businesses.

After all this effort, who benefits the most from Economic Development? Your first response would probably be the business community. Well, that's partly true but not the full answer. Local Government benefits by a larger tax base. The taxpayer benefits in that a larger tax base insures more services with no increase in taxes. The person who gets a job at the new industry or business also benefits. The new employee can now support his family, pay taxes, and be productive. The High School graduate also now has a job opportunity. Local businesses benefit too. Sales get bigger and so does sales tax dollars that are returned to local government.

Who should be responsible for a successful Economic Development Program? Historically it is usually the Chamber of Commerce of the community it serves. In Crawford County we have an E.D.C. program that was initiated by the efforts of the Chamber. According to law, an E.D.C. must be supported by a governmental entity and in this case, the support comes from the Crawford County Commissioners. The Crawford County E.D.C. most recently was instrumental in assisting K mart and the new nursing home, Grayling Health Care Center. The Chamber of Commerce and the E.D.C. as organizations are to provide leadership to devise and implement programs for the social and economic growth of the community. Your support and membership in the Chamber is reassuring to make these efforts a reality.

We have just received the most recent Crawford County figures for unemployment for 1984 for: January - 18.8%, February - 18.6%; March - 19.4%; April - 15.3%; May - 14.9%. June and July figures are not yet available, but we'll bet that they'll be lower.

FRESHMAN FACES QUAD

At one of our universities the freshman dormitories completely surround a grassy plot reached through a shadowy stone portal. Originally called the "QUADRANGLE" because of its four imposing sides, it has long since become simply the Quad.

Perhaps this Fall a freshman from your family will begin a new life away from home. For him, or her there will be opportunities and obstacles, triumphs and temptations.

How well we meet life's challenges when we are on our own depends on our character, our convictions.

Hopefully, years before a freshman faces the Quad, a church back home has been helping to mold that freshman's character and deepening that freshman's convictions.

Worldwide Marriage Encounter

"Our marriage was O.K., but it didn't seem to be going anywhere. After our Marriage Encounter
weekend we had a new focus.
It was a great feeling...a great weekend."

That is one of the typical comments made by couples following a Marriage Encounter weekend. The 44 hour weekend, which runs from Friday night to late Sunday afternoon teaches couples a new communication skill and allows couples the opportunity to be together with no children, no jobs, or other distractions.

"It is really such a beautiful experience", said one man following his weekend.
"With my job and all I'd really lost track of a lot of things. Now I sense I have a better handle on things. I'd really recommend a Weekend for any couple whether they've been married three years or 30."

Two fall Worldwide
Marriage Encounter weekends are scheduled this fall in the Diocese of Gaylord.
The first is September 28-30 in Conway. The other weekend is scheduled November 9-11 at Sugar Loaf Resort in Cedar, northwest of Traverse City. Normally weekends fill with 25-30 couples. Registrations should be mailed early to insure a guaranteed reservation. For further information, contact Dave and Sally Pierce, (616) 347-1729.

Driver Directions

Someday a new network of navigational satellites known as the Global Positioning System may give drivers their location almost instantly. National Geographic says that automakers already are testing dashboard navigators that show drivers where they are, and someday a voice synthesizer could tell them their location and where to turn.

Todd Mead Contributes To Unit's Success

Little Rock Air Force Base, Ark. — Staff Sergeant (technical sergeant selectee) Todd L. Mead, son of Mrs. Betty Mead, Grayling, has played a key role in the success of the 308th missile maintenance deputation here.

The maintenance unit is part of the 308th Strategic Missile Wing which operates, maintains and provides security for 17 Titan II Intercontinental Ballistic Missile sites in north-central Arkansas.

The wing has enjoyed unprecedented success in the past three years as a result of outstanding mission performance coupled with significant community involvement. They were awarded the General Bruce K. Holloway Humanitarian Award for voluntary assistance to a tornado-ravaged community near here in December 1982. The wing won the Colonel Lee R. Williams Memorial Missile Trophy signifying the "Best Missile Wing in the Strategic Air Command" in each of the past two years, and went on to capture honors as the "Best Wing in SAC" last year in competition with both missile and aircraft units.

Named the "Best Missile Maintenance Team in SAC" in both 1982 and 1983 at the annual Strategic Missile Combat Competition, maintenance continued the tradition this year, taking the title of "Best Titan Maintenance Team." The maintenance squadron also kept the humanitarian award "in the family" by capturing the 1983 Holloway Award for a variety of heroic actions by members of the unit. These accomplishments led to their selection to receive the Colonel George T. Chadwell Memorial Trophy as the "best maintenance organization" in the command. In April, the unit was selected for the Air Force Maintenance Effectiveness Award signifying worldwide excellence.

Much of the parent unit's success can be attributed to the outstanding contributions Sergeant Mead has made to the maintenance organization.

SCHOOLS OPEN — DRIVE WITH CARE — Catcher Lance Parrish, a big hit in Detroit's Tiger Stadium, asks motorists to remember the "School's Open — Drive Carefully" safety advice of the Automobile Club of Michigan. Parrish is shown with fifth grader Mark Weber of Mount Pleasant, one of 58,000 safety patrolers who will help their classmates travel safely to and from Michigan schools this school year. Last year, 53 youngsters aged 5 to 14 were killed and 3,183 injured in Michigan pedestrian and bicycle accidents.

syringes, needles and lap sponges, other studies are near completion or scheduled to start in the next couple of months.

A study on IV angio catheters is nearly completed and an evaluation on bladder pads is scheduled for October.

"All these evaluations on high cost/high volume products will be limited to four brands. Each of the four brands will be studied for one week," said Mrs. Allen.

As a result of the nursing evaluation program, the 11 nursing departments now work together with the SMHC purchasing departments when purchasing a large volume of a product line.

"Before, the purchasing departments used to do all the volume purchasing, sometimes sacrificing quality for cost. Now that all the Michigan SMHC hospitals agree on a particular product line, the cost will remain low without affecting the quality," said Mrs. Allen.

"This nursing evaluation team has really done a good job," said Mrs. Allen. "I really think it's great how the corporation's hospitals have worked together under this program."
